With On Sec David off on a Hashing holiday somewhere in the wilds of Africa, Ex-On Sec Jega comes back on line.

But arriving late, he saw the pack on the out trail as he drove in. He changed and then decided to take to the opposite trail knowing it would be the home trail. Indeed it was, as he met a co-hare coming back. Then a few more co-hares, then yet another few with the hare and then another 2 at the stream side sipping on a beer.

This track was the old familiar track till paper veered off down to that stream and up again through some bush and coming out to a clear rubber estate track. All the while, he heard the 'On On' call or 'Checking' call on the left and so kept on going to meet the front runners.

The trail was a large clockwise run and apparently went up and down the terraces of the rubber estate with a mean circular that took them off far off the general direction. After waiting a while at a check, he saw the front runners coming up looking for paper. It was then a last check far up a hill and then the run home.

Ex-On-Sec arrived back to see a lot of hashers sitting but not facing the beer truck, but to the side! Why? They were waiting for the roast lamb to be carved! With the privilege that comes with position, Ex-On-Sec went up and picked up a soft juicy piece and ate it, in your face like!

Despite this easy run, a large group were 'lost', among whom were veteran hashers like Playboy Choo. They were too embarrassed to say how they got lost.

Circle started after the lamb was finished and the Guinness Bar was opened, at 8.25pm. Sotong was up on the box as Butler and was installed with a song and a drink. This evening, we had the benefit of one of our guests from the Agana Hash Guam to give us some new accompanying songs.

The hare, Michael Lee was up with the regulation 3 co-hares. But he said he would put in another crate of beers, so all the 20(?) co-hares were up. They were given a song and a drink for their appreciated efforts.

On Cash was up with the perpetual plea for subs to be paid. Kajang Ah Chai was called up and given a pat on the back for having paid his last 2 quarter subs after a long delay. But Ah Chai went one better. He will be doing the Merdeka gazetted run and he will forego the subsidy and instead apply it to subs for the next two years!!!! He got his drink and song together a hearty round of applause and cheers.

The guests were up next. Tom Frawley, Burt Railey, (Agana Hash Guam), Trey Dunn (Saipan), Chew Leng Chai (Potential member), Solo (guest) and Black (ex-member). All welcomed.

Returnees were up and gave weak excuses for not being at the recent runs. Only Clifton Jones had a good reason, being an outstation member. No one noticed that Ex-On-Sec was missing for the last 3 weeks, but never mind.

Interhash Sec was up with some announcements, followed by Dennis Khoo who invited members to his forthcoming run with the Damansara HHH on the 31st July.

The Bomoh was Haleluya, Lim See How, next week's hare, appearing again in short time as this will be his fine run. Despite his limited English, he admirably challenged himself to do his duty.
He made it easy by calling up the butler for a good job. Then calling up the guests. Then Ah Kah for not being on paper.

When open to the floor, Hardy called up the guests. One had a cut lip and it was not certain if it was because they had an adventurous Sunday night out or because of a Frisbee.

Michael Lee got all the latecomers. He was upset that he had set a really good run and yet these guys had to spoil it.

Russell called Frank up. Almost unrecognizable because of his new baldness.

Russell also got ex-member Black for sitting the other way all evening.

Mountain Goat got the guests up and noted that only the Saipan hasher had a shawl.

Hardy got Playboy up. He had paid for his Indian visa online. But when he went to the High Commission, he paid again! Dementia? Maybe that was why he got lost tonight!

With that the circle was over and the pack adjourned to the restaurant for dinner.
